

Accredited Programs

Bespoke Education works with accredited distance-learning and home schooling programs to ensure that all credits and coursework will be accepted for college admissions. We have researched the best programs in the country and developed relationships with their administrators. Bespoke Education uses these programs as a base and builds on them to accommodate each student's needs. Our tutors provide a deeper understanding of the material and can help subject matter come alive through field trips and supplemental materials. Here are some of the programs we work with:

Indiana University High School Diploma

- Established in 1999, Indiana University High School (IUHS) is a high school diploma program that one can complete entirely through distance education. Indiana University High School features distance education courses from their Continuing Studies' award-winning Independent Study Program.
- Indiana University High School is accredited by the North Central Association. More than 100 colleges and universities in the United States and abroad have accepted graduates of the Indiana University High School diploma program, attesting to the esteem with which these institutions regard the IUHS diploma.
- Bespoke Education recommends IUHS for the structure it provides and the variety of courses offered, including AP exams. We have found the administrative staff to be extremely helpful and competent and the teachers responsive.

Laurel Springs

- Laurel Springs School believes that each child is a unique human being, with personal interests, special talents, and a recognizable learning style. They know that children receive optimum benefit from an educational process that values them as individuals and provides a personalized approach to learning. They work to encourage their natural curiosity, their innate enthusiasm for learning and their dreams. Laurel Springs School believes in and encourages lifelong learning and the enthusiasm for fulfilling lifetime dreams.
- Bespoke Education recommends Laurel Springs for their flexibility and willingness to accommodate special needs. The teachers and staff have been supportive through exceptional circumstances.
