FAQ: Answers to questions you are probably asking...

What curriculum do we follow? Bespoke's expert instructors will offer a full-day, grade-specific, structured educational program with in-person learning. Classes, assignments and homework can all be conducted on-site. Your child will remain enrolled and accredited at his or her current school as a remote student for the school year, and our teachers will manage school assignments and teacher check-ins, and will add extra challenge and rigor where necessary. Students will also be able to conduct any necessary remote school learning on-site. In addition to academic coursework, we will add in other subjects such as yoga, theater, art, or gym.

Why take this program with Bespoke? Bespoke has been tutoring and teaching students in New York for nearly twenty years: we know elementary curricula, we have experience tutoring and teaching at that level, and we will make sure that students have an engaging and challenging academic program. In addition to formal education in teaching, our staff completes a rigorous and extensive training program as well as background checks.

What subjects will be taught? Your current school's curriculum will determine what is taught: math, reading, writing, and science are core DOE subjects, and we will add in additional topics or depth as needed. Once student groups are set for each grade level, we will customize additional age-appropriate and desired subjects, such as art, yoga, dance, theater, foreign language, and free play in our gym area.

How will each day be structured? Just the same as a regular school day. Classes will generally start between 8:40am - 9:00am, and end at about 3:00pm. Students will bring lunch to their own pods (we will accommodate for allergies and dietary restrictions). Our intent is to mitigate health risks by keeping each small student group separated from the other groups as much as possible.

Will students get credit for the semester or year at Bespoke from their current schools? Assuming your child remains enrolled at his/her current school, we will ensure that all necessary assignments, grade-specific goals, and communication are met.

How will you maintain social distancing and COVID-19 safety? Each one of the Brooklyn locations has multiple rooms well-suited for 4 to 8 students, which equates to less than half its facility capacities. Each group will have its own dedicated room, so children will be with the same peers and will use the same spaces each day. We will clean and disinfect all rooms throughout the day; we will stagger start and lunch times and mandate mask usage for transit through common spaces; we will also supply face shields to students to use in lieu of masks in the classroom if they prefer; and we will urge teachers and students to monitor their own health from home and to stay home if unwell.
